

International Trade Attorney Position

We are an established international trade law firm with a challenging opportunity for an Attorney in import, export and international trade and compliance. Candidate must have detailed Customs, import, export, and trade expertise and a strong working knowledge and experience with Customs and PGA regulations and related trade policies. Foreign-Trade Zone knowledge and experience is preferred but not necessary. Excellent communication skills (verbal, written, presentation) are required. Successful candidate will work directly with multiple attorneys, compliance directors, and legal assistants, and have direct client contact. The candidate must be a self-starter with an inquisitive mind and can meet or exceed deadlines, prioritize, multi-task, and maintain flexibility in a fast-paced, changing environment with the ability to work independently on multiple projects. Salary will be commensurate with experience and skills. The firm offers profit sharing and an exceptional benefits package.

Requirements include:

- Minimum of five to ten years direct import/export technical experience;
- Foreign-Trade Zone knowledge and experience preferred;
- Ability to handle multiple and occasionally conflicting priorities;
- Keen attention to detail with an inquiring mind;
- Demonstrated organizational skills;
- Ability to independently present and discuss work product;
- Ability to independently prepare formal written documents, correspondence, and technical explanation memoranda;
- Knowledge of international trade/economics;
- Ability to travel for client meetings and work;
- Excellent communication skills (verbal, written, presentation) to explain technical subject matters;
- Professional demeanor to deal directly with clients and government officials; and
- Strong public speaking and communication skills in order to present subjects at both firm and client subject-matter seminars and training programs.
